Mrs. J. K. Gant, who has been visiting relatives in Hamburg, Germany, for five months, reached New York Friday on her homeward journey. She will remain with friends in that city for a week before coming home.

CREAM OF NEWS.

Three brakemen killed.

L. C. Andrews, a brakeman on the L. & N. freight 113, whose home is in Cairo, Ill., was killed this morning at Vernon switch by the passenger train. He was left off by the freight to flag the passenger, and sat down on the railroad placing the red lamp on the wrong side, so it could not be seen by the approaching train, and fell asleep. He was not quite dead when taken up, but there was no hope of his recovery.—Clarksville Chronicle.

Karl Caruthers, a brakeman on the L. & N. road was killed at Baker's Station, Tenn., Friday night. He was passing from one box car to another when the train parted and threw him between the moving cars. He was instantly killed. His home was at Vincennes, Ind., where he has relatives.

On Saturday night a brakeman named Williams was also killed at Northville. He had been in the employ of the L. & N. for only a few days, the fatal trip being his third one. While coupling lumber cars he was knocked down and instantly killed. No further particulars could be learned.

The Accommodation Returns.

The Nashville accommodation train, which has made Earlinton its terminal point for some months, has resumed the old order of things and will hereafter stop in Hopkinsville. The special engine taken off at the same time also came back. No change has been made in the time table.—Frank Gore is now conductor on this train.

Barn Burned.

The tobacco barn of Harlan Page, four miles from town on the Butler road, was burned Saturday with its contents, about 3,000 pounds of tobacco. Mr. Page is a poor man and the loss falls very heavily upon him.

DEATHS.

James Moore, a well known citizen of Pembroke, died Friday morning, aged about 30 years. He had been sick for three weeks with erysipelas. He was a brother of W. H. Moore, of this city.

Dr. John Morrison, one of the most prominent physicians of the county, died at Pembroke, Friday morning, of paralysis, aged 65 years. He was stricken down several days before and his disease baffled the skill of the best physicians, until it reached a fatal termination. Dr. Morrison had long been prominent in his profession and with his son, Dr. Robt. Morrison, had a large practice about Pembroke. He was buried Saturday at the family graveyard in Pembroke.

A little daughter of Geo. Taylor died at Guthrie yesterday of diphtheria. The remains were brought to this city and interred in the city cemetery this afternoon at 1 o'clock.—Clarksville Progress.

Logan McKee, one of the leading Republican politicians of the State, died at his home in Central Kentucky last week.

COLORED.

Year old child of Jan. Moore, a few miles south of the city, of dropsy, Friday.

Communion services were held at the Baptist church Sunday morning. There were no services at night.

Call on Mrs. Carrie Hart for the latest novelties in the Millinery line. She has on exhibition a complete assortment of these goods.

Miss Alice Hayes' fall millinery stock has arrived, showing careful selection and can not fail to please all the ladies. Stock complete in every particular.

Circuit court adjourned Thursday evening of last week. The extended time was occupied in disposing of some equity chancery of no interest to any one but the litigants.

Mrs. Carrie Hart has the most complete line of five millinery goods ever brought to this city, embracing everything in that line and prices are moderate. Call and see her.

Mr. James H. Richardson, of this county, was admitted to trial to the Louisville Conference as a preacher. Mr. J. D. Mitchell was also admitted to trial.—Cadiz Telephone.

Rev. Geo. F. Campbell, the young minister who had charge of the Greenville circuit last year, passed a highly creditable examination at Conference, and was complimented by the Bishop.—Muhlenberg Echo.

Mr. C. W. Mills, of Northville, grand-father of Sam Brown, the young engineer killed at Dunmore two weeks ago, was in town yesterday. He expects to bring suit for damages against the railroad company.

A tobacco barn on the farm of Mrs. W. E. Nabbs, in the Southern portion of the county, containing about 20,000 pounds of tobacco, was destroyed by fire last week. The tobacco was about cured up at the time of the fire.—Princeton Banner.

E. M. Flack has purchased the Bolin property on the east side of the public square, paying $3,500 for it. Mr. Flack has not determined what use he will make of it. This is a very valuable piece of property and one of the cheapest in the city.—Clarksville Progress.

Richard Duff, a colored man living one mile from town on the Greenville road, reports that a June apple tree on his place has borne two crops of fruit this year. The second crop is on the fresh twigs that put out while the first crop was ripening. The apples are now as large as an egg.

The destruction of Mr. W. T. Stowe's barn last week, brief mention of which was made, entailed a loss upon him of about $2,500. Not only was a very large tobacco barn with nearly all his crop burned, but the prize barn and machinery barn attached to the main building were also lost. A tobacco press, three reapers, a number of plows and other agricultural implements were destroyed in these buildings.

Dr. J. C. McDavitt, late of Allenwood, has located in this city for the practice of dentistry. His office is over the City Bank and his rooms are now ready for occupancy. Dr. McDavitt is a young gentleman of pleasing address, a graduate of Vanderbilt and comes with three years' experience in the practical work of his profession.

If any man thinks the merchants of Hopkinsville do not appreciate a good advertising medium when they see it let him examine the columns of the KENTUCKIAN. Never before in its history has the paper had such a generous patronage. There is not a "dead" advertisement in its columns, not an inch of wasted space, and still the business men, not satisfied with two-thirds of the paper, are demanding more room.

Mr. C. G. Layne has purchased from Col. Polk Priole, of Guthrie, two of the finest Shropshire down sheep ever bred in Southern Kentucky. They are from the best imported and registered stock, their registered numbers being 215 and 219 respectively. Mr. Layne paid fancy prices for them and will go extensively into the business of breeding sheep and horses. He has made arrangements to turn his place into a regular stock farm, Col. Priole also forwarded with the sheep a pair of white Holland turkeys, a present to Mrs. Layne.

BUTCHERED LIKE A HOG.

Pike Radford Killed and His Body Trown Into a Sink.

Garrett Munford Suspected of the Crime.

Pike Radford, col., was brutally murdered Sunday night, near Herndon, and the corpse hidden in a sink hole near by. Early yesterday morning Bogo Quinn was passing along the road near the residence of Ben Coleman when he saw blood on the ground near a pond in the road. He followed the trail to the fence near a vacant cabin and saw a pool of blood on the ground and near by some bloody rails where the fence had been gotten over. He got over the fence and plainly saw where a body had been dragged through the weeds to a sink hole about a hundred yards distant. Here he found the murdered body of Radford. Mr. Quinn reported the matter and in about half an hour Constable J. A. Boyd, of Bennettsburg, was found and took charge of the body. An examination showed that a deep gash had been made on the left side of the neck, severing the jugular vein and cutting the head half off. Another gash, not so deep, was on the right side of the neck and a still shorter one under the chin. The man had been butchered like a hog and then dragged fully 150 yards. The body was lying flat on the back, with one leg drawn up and the features covered with frost. It was perfectly stiff and the killing evidently occurred early in the night. Mr. Boyd left the body under guard and came at once for Coroner Dulla, who went out and held an inquest. At the time of going to press a report of the verdict had not been received. Pike or "Perk" Radford, as he was sometimes called, was a copper-colored negro about 30 years old. He was married and lately lived with Mr. E. D. Jones. The place where the killing occurred is about 11 miles from town, in the Beverly district. The affair evidently began in the road; after having been fatally cut Radford probably ran bleeding to the fence pursued by the murderer and doubtless fell and expired where the pool of blood was found. Then the body was thrown over the fence and dragged to where it was concealed. No witness to the murder has yet been found, but suspicion points strongly to Garrett Munford, a young negro, a son of Eph Munford, as the guilty party. He was at church not far away that night and Radford was also there. Sam Davis, col., will testify that he heard Munford threaten to cut Radford before morning, while discussing a row they had had during the day. A warrant was taken out for the arrest of Munford yesterday, which was placed in the hands of Cave Johnson, Constable of the Beverly district. It was not learned whether or not Munford had left the neighborhood.

MATRIMONIAL.

Mr. A. A. Reed, of Bellevue, will be married next Thursday to Miss Hargrave, of Gallatin, Tenn.

Joe Hamlin, aged 19, and Emma Benson, aged 14, were married in the Logan county clerk's office last Thursday, presumably with the consent of their parents.

Mr. E. F. Blakeley, of Nebo, Hopkins county, formerly of Bellevue, was married Sunday, Oct. 6, to Miss Mollie Reed, of Bellevue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. V. M. Metcalf, of this city. The bride is a sister of Messrs. W. A. Reed and Joe J. Reed, prominent farmers of the western portion of the county. The newly married couple will return to Hopkins county, the groom's home, this week. The KENTUCKIAN's best wishes attend them.

Alex. Timely, aged 56, and Miss Beale Wilkison, aged 19, both of Greenville, eloped to Jeffersonville Wednesday and were married.

A clandestine marriage between Miss Mattie Barnes, of Bowling Green, and Mr. J. M. Lester, of Nashville, has just been made public. They were married July 4.

Mr. W. H. Adams and Mrs. M. A. Pankoy, of the Church Hill neighborhood, will be married this afternoon at 8 o'clock, Rev. W. B. Walker officiating. Mr. Adams is one of the leading farmers of South Christian and has many friends who will wish him happiness in the matrimonial state.

The 15th will be a good day for weddings. Three couples are to be united in the capitals of as many adjoining counties, on that day. Mr. S. Walton Forgy and Miss Sallie Petree in Elkton; Mr. Jno. A. Steele and Miss Bobbie Watson in Cadiz; and Mr. Will P. Morion and Miss Maude Ruby in Madisonville, are the happy parties.

JACK FROST.

A White Frost On Sunday Night Does Much Damage.

Sunday Work to Save the Tobacco.

Sunday was a decidedly chilly autumn day. Overcoats were brought out and were worn with comfort even in the noonday sun. Predictions were freely made that there would be a killing frost at night and the prophecies came true. Monday morning showed a white frost that looked almost like a light snow and everything liable to be killed by frost was sipped.

The farmers became alarmed early in the day Sunday and many of them staid away from church to violate the commandment against breaking the Sabbath and worked with might and main to get the ox out of the ditch. A great deal of tobacco was cut Sunday and the frost did not do more than about 5 per cent. of the crop exposed. This estimate is based upon reports from various sections of the county, brought in by farmers in the city yesterday.

Many farmers had cut all their crops and, as is usually the case, a few unfortunate ones lost nearly all their tobacco. As a rule the tobacco killed was small and irregular and the loss will not be of very great consequence.

Some of the bitten tobacco was being cut yesterday, although it was as black as frost could make it. Of course this will be hardly worth housing at the present prices.

This is the earliest killing frost in this latitude for years. In fact none but the "oldest inhabitants" can recall an earlier one. It came on short notice and the wonder is that it did not do more damage than it did.

The weather yesterday was quite raw and cold and the indications were that there would be another heavy frost last night.

A fine head of hair is an indispensable element of beauty. Ayer's Hair Vigor maintains youthful freshness and luxuriance, restores to faded and gray hair its original color, prevents baldness, removes dandruff, and cures scalp diseases. It gives perfect satisfaction.

Mr. O. S. Stevens has made arrangements to start a steam "flying jenny" next month, which he is now having made in New York. He will start out at Jacksonville, Fla., and remain in the South during the winter months. He contemplates making a tour of the whole country, changing his location to suit the climate.
